1. Abdul HENCI told [ ] during the first days of April that he (HENCI) had been charged by Hasan DOSTI with the recruitment of 50 Albanians. He also wrote Faik DALIP, at the Bari Transit Camp, to attempt recruitment among the Albanians there. When DALIP failed to find recruits, HENCI visited the Bari camp himself on 10 April, but without success.
2. The above information, obtained from [ ], has also been confirmed by another informant. [ ] also states that the British military authorities recently called a FAC meeting in Rome, at which Hasan DOSTI presided. The British requested the names of 150 Albanians willing to be parachuted into Albania for informational purposes, after a course of instruction in Malta and in an unnamed location in Italy. The British added that, since the personnel drops were to take place in the mountainous areas only, the period selected was that between 15 March and 15 May of each year, thus avoiding the risks resultant both from harsh weather during the winter and encounters with shepherds during the summer.
3. The FAC agreed to the British request. The Zoghist representatives however, asked that personnel not used be returned promptly to IRO camps.
